My name is Maria Scharffenberg.

I am from Sweden, but have the last years lived in both Austria, Germany, The Netherlands and for the moment I'm living in Canada

I am a certified Sommelier, educated at the Europäische Sommelier Schule in Germany, and teacher of the European School for Sommelier (the international sommelier school, currently present in 17 different countries) for which I train sommelier, hold courses for different level and conduct seminars and events as well as certify new sommeliers.

In addition to education, training and didactic planning, I am consulting at various restaurants and wine shops, organizes and participates in different events, etc. I am a regular member of the jury for wine competitions such as for example Berlin Wine Trophy where I am a team leader.

Apart from my native language Swedish I also speak English and German at business level.
